NEXUS GREENE

Board of Commissioners

Recently we have taken on a project that helps our Greene County administration and departments communicate, as well as keep them informed on current events. This project is called "Nexus Greene." This is a website that works as a calendar and research engine, as well as a discussion board. We digitalized all the information that would be useful to different departments such as public notices, public contracts, and appeal hearing notifications just to name a few. The county offices and elected officials can access important information with ease. In the near future we are looking to make this information available to the public.
